STRATEGY WITH SOUL

STAGE · YOU'RE READY TO GROW

Grow with strategy

Level up without burning out

You already have a solid base. Now it's about moving forward with strategy — and growing without exhausting yourself.

YOUR LIFE IS A PROJECT TOO

Growing isn't doing more

When you already have something that works, the risk is growing at the cost of your energy. Growing with strategy means choosing what's IN and what's OUT. Here comes Protection, the third step of my method: shielding your progress so it doesn't collapse.

1

Define what growth means to YOU

Not to others. More income? More freedom? More impact? Put it in your own words.

2

Find your bottleneck

What is the ONE thing that, if it improved, would unlock everything else?

3

Protect your energy

What will you stop doing to make room? Growing is also letting go.

4

Design a 30-day experiment

Something small and measurable that moves you to the next level, without betting it all.

EXERCISE

Your next level

Growing wisely starts by deciding where to — and taking care of yourself. Fill in your plan.

For me, growing means...

Your definition, not others'...

My bottleneck is...

What unlocks the most if it improves...

I'm going to stop...

To make space and energy...

My 30-day experiment

Small, measurable, concrete...

Remember: growing isn't running faster. It's running with direction and taking care of yourself.

Your base is set. Now move forward with strategy, protecting the most valuable thing: you.
